at a bound. It has won your admiration. It deserves it. Where in this broad land can be found a more complete establishment catering to the outfitting wants of man. You will answer with us, Nowhere. All the stocks are very active already.

Completeness and cheapness mark each collection. The store service is excellent, too. Error at the minimum, promptness at the maximum.

This community already knows that the greatest single assembly of merchandise for man and boy ever made for Washington retailing is here. The great selling already proves it.

We have brought about the golden age of store's eeping. The golden element is that cost may be so greatly eliminated and the possibilities of style and value remain. Evidence of this exists throughout the whole store. Pick up a suit of clothes for man at $10 or $12 or $15 or look at the boys' suits at $3.50 or $4 or $5. Slip into one of our $10 overcoats or look through our line of trousers at $3, $4 or $5. Compare our 50-cent neckwear with others around town. Try on a hat marked $2.50 or $3. Step into our shoes marked $3 or $3.50.

Touch what you will, and in every instance you'll note how gladly the extremes of quality and price meet.

Then, too, this is the golden age for the purses that are more or less free from severe economical restraint. Therefore, when the demands of taste and the conveniences of money meet in any degree, greater or smaller, the products that satisfy are ready.

Eternal fitness rallies around this place!

Our men's furnishing goods buyer, Mr. Malcolm M. Brown (manager of the men's furnishings department of the late Seaton Perry), desires to inform his many friend's and acquaintances that he Is ready with his popular line of 10c collars and 12 1-2 cuffs which

One of the Mississippi visitors, in discussing the row, said: "John Allen is a funny man, and he doesn't often get into broils, but when he gets stirred up he's about as savage a hater as anyone I know. It was most gratuitous in Bailey to meddle in the political affairs of Allen's district, and I think the impetuous young man who insists that every one should be disciplined for failure to follow his leadership will discover before he is much older that he has tackled the wrong crowd. Both Catchings and Allen are members who have influence in their party, and should the Democrats organize the next House Bailey will rue the day that he offended them."

JULY'S HEAVY EXPORTS The Human Ostrich.

Shipment of American Products to Foreign Countries.

INDUSTRIES OF THE NATION

An Increased Showing in the Pur-

July exports of mahufactures were greater than in any July in the history of the country and formed a larger percentage of the total exports than in any preceding year or month in its history. The exports of manufactures for the month were $25,983,116 and formed 36.47 per cent of the total exports. No July has ever shown such a record of exports of manutactures, and in no month or year have manufactures formed so large a per centage of the total exports. Compared with decade ago the July exports of manufactures have doubled and the percentage which they form of the total exportations has also nearly doubled. In July, 1888, the total exports of manufactures were but $11,559,606, or less than half those of July, 1898; while they formed but 26.27 per cent of the total exports, against 36.47 per cent in July, 1898.

The gain which the manufacturing interests are making in the proportion which they are obtaining of the total export trade is strongly marked. In July, 1890, they supplied 24.82 per cent of the total exports; in July, 1884, 28.16 per cent; in July, 1886, 31.33 per cent; in July, 1896, 22.80 per cent; in July, 1897, 33.78 per cent, and in July, 1888, 36.47 per cent. Exports of manufactures in July, 1897, were double those of a decade earlier, yet July, 1836, shows an increase of more than 10 per cent over July, 1837.

The increase in export manufactures extends to nearly all of the important in-dustrial interests of the country. Ex-ports of agricultural implements increased nearly 5e per cent in July, 1898, over July, 1897. Great Britain bought from u nearly twice as much in this line in July of the present year as in July, 1897; Brit ish North America increased her pur-chases in this line 50 per cent; France doubled her purchases, as did also Ar-gentina and the other South American countries, while British Australasia increased 50 per cent.

Our exports of cars and carriages in July, 1898, were more than $1 per cent greater than in July of last year, the ex-ports in this line to Great Britain being 50 per cent greater than those of a year ago; while Africa nearly doubled her purchases of this class of articles, and Argentina increased from $2.05 in July, 1897, to $145,063 in July, 1898, other South American countries also increasing their purchases largely.

Exports of copper in July, 1898, were $3,267,946 in value as against $2,963,577 in July, 1897, the chief increase being to France, Germany, British North America of cotton cloth in July, 1898, amounted to 37,474,071 yards, against 25,685,165 yards in July, 1897. To Great Britain exports of cotton cloth increased nearly 20,699 yards. to other European countries 20,000 yards, to British North America 400,000 yards, to South America 220,000 yards, to British Mr. Thompson appeared in the city South America 220,000 yards, to British court as attorney for Boughlan & Ter-East Indies 110,000 yards to Africa 470,000 williger, against William O'Connell, in a yards, and to China over 6,000,000 yards.

yards, and to China over 6,000,000 yards. The total exportation of cotton goods for the month was $2,203,032 in value, against $1,732,027 in, July, 1897.

The exports of fron and steel show a remarkable increase, being for the month of July, 1898, $7,612,977, against $4,918,107 in July of the year of Great Reliable increase. July of last year, Great Britain increas-ed her consumption of our sewing ma-chines nearly 50 per cent, as compared with July of last year. Mexico nearly doubled her orders on sewing machines Brazil increased hers by 75 per cent, and the exports of this article to Africa were double in July, 1898, those of July, 1897. Hars and rods of steel other than wire increased from 2,726,383 pounds in July, 1897, to 4,522,961 pounds in July, 1898, whre fincreased from 8,120,424 pounds in July, 1897, to 16,217,144 pounds in July, 1898; steel plates and sheets increased from 725,514 pounds in July, 1897, to 9,962,574 pounds in July, 1898; locomotives increased from $167,988 in July, 1897, to $635,766 in July, 1898; cut nails from 5,538,212 pounds in July, 1897, to 7.385,262 pounds in July, 1898, and wire nails from 1.981,511 pounds in July, 1897, to 4.390,685 pounds in July, 1898. You would be amazed, perhaps, to be told that you were something like the human ostrich, in the character of your diet, and the risk of life involved.

The invasion of foreign markets by the manufacturers of the country continues to increase. The figures of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics show that the strosty. The man who plays the part of CH MAN > the human ostrich is an example of deprayed appetite in its most extreme and exaggerated form. The deprayed appe-tite of the average candidate for dyspep-sia does not go further than hot bread and biscuit, rich pastries, highly seasoned dishes, and excessively greasy foods. Add to this improper cooking, haste in eating, and lack of proper rest after a meal, and you have a condition very likely to result. n disease and suffering

Let it be remembered that the sole ob-ject of food is nutrition; nutrition not for the body as a whole only, but nutrition for the varying needs of the separate parts of the body; for the muscles, the nerves, the brain, the blood. When the stomach is in a state of healthy activity, nature, by her remarkable processes, takes the food you supply, and distributes its starches and sugars, its salts and nosphates according to the needs of the parate organs of the body. When the omach is not in a state of healthy activity, nature does her best, but the various dependent organs of the body are put on short rations. There is not nourish-ment enough to supply them properly.

WHAT HAPPENS THEN.

A weakened stomach. A stomach in-capable of performing its functions fully. capeble of performing its functions fully. The liver and blood-making glands work imperfectly. The natural result is that the food is imperfectly digested and only lungs alone. If you can cure the stomapartly assimilated and the channels of ach, invigorate the liver, and set the life are choked and stopped by waste and putrescent matter. Some people know where the trouble is. They locate it in the stomach, because they have pain there after eating, an irregular craving for food, or an appetite that eating does not satisfy. There is heaviness after a meal, a feeling of undue fullness. It is hard to breathe there is such a stuffy hard to breathe, there is such a stuffy feeling about the chest. There may be palpitation or irregular action of the heart and the sufferer imagines he has heart disease. Perhaps the stomach sours, and there are bitter risings, and belchings. These symptoms mark various forms and stages of "weak stomach." They will not all be present in every case or in the earlier stages of the disease.

tion between the stomach and the symptoms of the disease. The victim thinks it "liver trouble," heart failure, or lung disease. There is a dull pain, perhaps in the back or the side. The spine aches, someits whole length. There may be a sharp stitch or pain occasionally. Exercise makes the limbs tremble and the heart beat violently. Perhaps to some of these beat violently. Perhaps to some of these symptoms there is added an obstinate, stubborn cough. WHAT IS THE MATTER NOW? It is another case of weak stomach. But that is not where the pain is. Very likely not. But that is where the trouble is. The stomach has not been able to properly feed the organs dependent upon it. They are starving, they are weak, and they show their weakness in the aches and pains that afflict the various parts of the body. What will set the stomach right? There is one remedy practically infallible in its results, and that one remedy is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures because it is. Medical Discovery. It cures because it is made to cure just the conditions of the stomach which give rise to disease.

A COMMON SENSE VIEW. If so many diseases begin in the store ach and nutritive system, why should not some one remedy be compounded, which by healing the stomach would nec-nutritive system. The soundness of Dr. Pierce's original theory, that diseases which originate in the stomach must be cured through the stomach, has been proved in thousands of cases, where one or several of the chief organs of the body were involved in wasting diseases, and an entire cure has been wrought by the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery." Louis will be the first of the great ocean liners to resume her trips to Southampton and she will be quickly followed by the St. Paul, Harvard and Yale.

This was in 1887 and now I am happy to say that I am in the enjoyment of good health which I attribute to Dr. R. V. Plerce. I am so glad of my health that I cannot say too much. I first regan to read concerning diseases like my own. After consulting the doctor himself, I purchased at my nearest drug store a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Disthat I cannot say too much. I first re-turn my sincere thanks to Almighty God and then to Doctor Pierce." The above is only a specimen case taken at random from thousands. WHY IT 18 80.

In view of the foregoing facts it is easy to explain why the "Golden Medical Discovery" is the best blood-purifying medicine. The stomach supplies the blood. Draw pure water into a foul cup and if you drink it you drink foul water. No matter how pure the food, if the stomach is foul you will have foul blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cleanses the blood by cleaning the stom-ach, invigorating the liver and setting the blood-making glands at work. Weak lungs are cured on the same prin-

a weak stomach. A weak stomach does not always mean weak longs, but weak lungs always means a weak stomach. The weak stomach means lack of sufficient nutrition, or the incapacity of the stom-ach to digest the food and distribute the nutriment to repair the waste and loss of the body. The whole medical profes-sion recognizes this fact. Their great prescription for weak lungs and consumption is a fattening food, condensed and assimilable-which takes the form of cod assimilable—which takes the form of cod-liver oil, either in all its original nasti-ness, or with its offensiveness modified in some emuisive preparation. The theo-ry is sound enough. What the body needs is nourishment. If you could nourish the body up to the point of aggression against disease it would protect itself. Somehow cod liver all and its prepara-tions never seem to rect as far as the

There is one important feature about "Golden Medical Discovery" which canwhich by healing the stomach would essarily cure the diseases of the organs dependent on it? This was the great question which Dr. R. V. Pierce set himself to answer. Then followed a period of profound study of the value of alterative and tonic medicines.
